INTENSIFY TRAINING OF CONSTRUCTION WORKERS; CONVICT HUNGARIAN PROFESSORS

TRAINEES WILL TOTAL 40,000 BY 1951 -- Budapest Friss Ujsag, 1 Aug 50

Last year, 2,500 industrial students and workers changing their trade were trained in construction work. This year, to meet demands of the Five-Year Plan, the training of 25,000 students and transferees has been planned. Intermediate training will be given to 6,000 foremen, construction foremen, draftsmen, and machinists, and about 1,000 will receive advanced training as experts, technicians, planners, and engineers.

An academy for construction engineers will also be built, consisting of four faculties: designing, layout, construction engineering, and statics. Nine hundred middle-grade technical experts will be trained at the academy as engineers. In addition to the academy, the Ministry of Construction is planning to build a 21-million-forint, 1,200-student-capacity central school.

In 1951, the number of those being trained in construction work will increase 60 percent, bringing the total to 40,000 trainee workers.

26,000 NEW INDUSTRIAL STUDENTS -- Budapest Friss Ujsag, 26 Jul 50

The first year of the Five-Year Plan allows for the enrollment of 26,000 industrial students. Of these, more than 15,000 can be used in the steel industry. The machinist and tool maker fields are already filled, but applications are being accepted until 1 September for foundrymen, blacksmiths, tool sharpeners, planers, locksmiths, and electricians.

500 INDUSTRIAL TEACHER CANDIDATES TO BE ACCEPTED -- Budapest Friss Ujsag, 1 Aug 50

The school for industrial instructors will accept 500 candidates for the fall term in the iron, metal, and machine industry, construction, mining and textile industry, Hungarian language and literature, and the social sciences fields. Industrial workers who have been employed in their field for the last 2 years and who are between 20 and 40 are eligible. The course of instruction will last 10 months, and during that time students will receive 800 forints per month subsistence.
